卷之三

A close-up photograph of several pink flowers, likely roses, with green leaves in the background.

A photograph showing a row of headstones in a cemetery. The headstones are dark grey or black and have inscriptions on them. In the background, there are many green trees and bushes. The sky is clear and blue.

This block contains a dense, abstract pattern of dark green and black lines. The lines are thick and irregular, creating a complex, organic texture. The overall effect is reminiscent of a microscopic view of a plant's vascular system or a network of veins.

A blurry photograph showing a person from the waist up, wearing a bright green short-sleeved shirt. The background is out of focus, featuring what appears to be a building with light-colored walls and some greenery or trees.

This photograph captures a narrow, blue-painted street in Santorini, Greece. The street is flanked by whitewashed buildings with dark blue doors and windows. A blue-framed window is visible on the right side. The ground is paved with grey stones.

A close-up photograph of a green, leafy plant, possibly a succulent or cactus, set against a bright, clear blue sky. The plant's spines are visible, and the lighting creates highlights on the leaves.
